THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

50X1-HUM

1. The commercial treaty between Poland and Albania* contained secret agreements which provided for the delivery of high octane gasoline and munitions to Albania.
2. Specifically, Poland is to supply and deliver high octane gasoline suitable for use in aircraft and tank engines. This delivery is already under way, and actual delivery is being made by the Polish tanker M/S Karpaty. The gasoline is [redacted] delivered to the Albania port of Valona.
3. The munitions being sent to Albania include an assortment of practically all types and calibers of Polish, Czech, and German guns and ammunition. Also included are canned foods, medical supplies, military clothing, and other miscellaneous items of military equipment. One such cargo specifically observed contained 3000 life belts and other life-saving equipment.
4. These munitions cargoes are loaded in the Free Harbor area of Gdansk or in the military harbor of Gdynia-Oksywie.
5. The Polish vessel S/S Kosciuszko is the principal carrier of these cargoes and is unloaded at Valona.
